

Training course labelling according to CLP

Background

Regulation EC 1272/ 2008 (CLP) is the EU implementation of the Globally Harmonised System and sets new requirements for the classification and labelling of chemical products (substances and mixtures).

Based on our experience with classifying mixtures and our background at the REACH & CLP helpdesk, we have developed two training courses:

- Classification & labelling of mixtures according to CLP (focus on classification):
https://www.tenviro.eu/clp_mixture_classification_training.php
- Labelling according to CLP (see below).

Goal: being able to draft or check CLP hazard labels based on the CLP classification of the product (substance or mixture).

For whom?

For anyone that has a task in CLP (hazard) labelling of chemicals. This course does not explain the classification rules for chemicals.

Also recommended for participants of the training course Classification & labelling of mixtures according to CLP in case CLP labelling is part of their job.
